WHY JAPAN NEEDS CHRIST

An Interview with Lieut.-Colonel Yamamuro, Chief Secretary for Japan and written a book on the subject, and at some length have told us what Buddhism is! "One thing you may take for granted, and that is that Buddhism is far from the common understanding—in a word, it has not a practical bearing on the lives of the people. Not that it is utterly wrong. It had something of truth. Of course, after hundreds of years' superstition, error and formalism have crept in, and other evil things have helped to undermine its influence, but even without its error and superstition it does not reach to the complete need of the people.

IMITATING CHRISTIANITY

"During the last fifteen or twenty years there has been an effort made to incorporate the Christian idea into Buddhism. The putting of Buddhist dress over the Christian one, however, has not proved a great success. I thought it would be interesting to 'All the World' readers to know that they are imitating the Sunday School idea. All Buddhists now have a Sunday School, not only in the cities, but in the small towns. I have heard the children singing not only 'Jesus loves me, this I know,' but precisely the same words as the Sunday school, the name of the Buddha being substituted for that of Jesus. The Salvation Army has not failed to attract attention, and there is a Buddhist imitation of it.

DRAWING NEARER THE MASTER

KNOWLEDGE WITHOUT THE NECESSARY LIGHT

By the foregoing we gathered from the Colonel that we are not to understand that these people of the intelligent class are becoming like Nicodemus; still, some are drawing nearer to the Gospel. Many know from the work of The Salvation Army that the Kingdom of God and Christianity is good for the "common people"; but when it comes to an application of Christian principles to their own life they hesitate. Still, their eyes are towards Christ, the Army of the Salvation Army and the spread of the Gospel of Christ among the poor they are beginning to understand. As for the use of Salvation for themselves, that is another matter. As for the Army, they are being reached. The message of Christ is breaking through their consciousness; and the Salvation Army effort helps in that direction; and in this respect the Army is doing much to the front. Such enterprises as the "One Soul Campaign," by means of which every Salvationist seeks to work to win another, helped the Army to make a mark in the world. It adds the people turn to The Salvation Army in many of their difficulties and are more and more realizing that the religion, the religion of Jesus Christ, that religion which is the religion of the

SOLDIERS AND SALVATION SONG

The Editor will be glad to receive letters or extracts from letters from Soldiers overseas, containing references to Salvation Army Work, Huts, or Hostels, exciting incidents of Salvation Service, or giving personal testimony. Address, The Editor, "War Cry," Albert Street, Toronto.

"It is difficult to describe the thoughts which filled my mind during that simple meeting in those strange surroundings. We might "Never shall I forget the singing of that grand old song, 'We'll Be Heroes'—sung by men who have passed through the fierce fires of temptation and come through as victors. I have never heard a triumph which I have never heard surpassed. As we sang, the Little Hall faded from my sight, and I saw the great Central Transept at the Crystal Palace during the Coronation of George the Fifth, and the hundreds of Bandmen rising tier upon tier to the full extent of the great orchestra, for we sang this grand old war-bon-ton. How the great building rang! In the end of the day, the boys and girls hadrambled for the time, and we

"You will be pleased to know that since coming here I have been able to commence Army Meetings and we have now quite a number of Subversionists. We hold services every night and have splendid times. I have also met two very fine chaps who are with the R.A.M.C.; they have been put in charge of the 'Corps,' and we are writing to Headquarters in India for a Flag, also asking them to recognize us as a part of their work, and if possible to arrange so that we can have the power to swear in Soldiers. Already we have one or two who are likely

A MEMORY OF HOME

The Officer in charge of one of our Hostels in London, Eng., wrote to make the place more home-like by securing all the pictures he could and hanging them in the rooms.

One night he noticed a Scotch soldier sitting on a chair in front of a picture of Princes Street, Edinburgh. He sat gazing at it for a very long while. At length the Officer spoke to him and said: "You seem to be very interested in that picture, my lad."

"Eh, mon," replied the soldier: "I've been walking along Princes Street with me mither for this last hour!"

A very interesting testimony was recently given by one of the convicted interned men at The Hague. He had taken upon himself the distribution of the East-West War Cry, among his fellows, and he told how, after putting copies in seven different dormitories, another soldier came and requested that he might have one. "Do you know The Salvation Army?" he was asked. "Yes," came the answer; "I was dedicated to God under The Army Flag!" He then promised his new friend that he would attend the meetings which "Salvation-Army Officers were holding at the entrance of the interned camp."

Then we had a Salvation Meeting at Boegang, which is the name of a village in the interior. It is a little sick native of all sorts and ages. What a sight a meeting with these people is and what a bringing of tears to the eyes of the white people, sorrow and suffering. Surely there is no other such place and such misery in all the world as this. The people come from all directions in rags, wounds and filth to be treated by the Doctor at Smarang and they are passed on to the American Hospital. The Army to shelter, cleanse, clothe and care for. They are not lepers but the sights and smells are often enough to make a leper of you. The Leper Colony, Adjutant Kruiswijk here has been bandaging and helping them, loving them and living for them, would not for the world be sent away from the world, he would still try to tell them of the love and care of a land where they could and sorrow would exist.

Our songs delight them and they take part in the singing with much fervor while the beautiful old story of the Bible is told to them. In the prayer meeting we had twenty-five of them at the front seeking Salvation. A sight that made us glad.

At night we were at the Eye Hospital which is situated on a height in one of the new Semarang suburbs. It is a large building, one hundred and eighty indoor patients and a large number of outdoor patients who come to the Hospital for treatment. The Eye Hospital is crowded, crowds waiting to come in and crowds moving who see little hope of their turn to come.

Major Dr. Wile and his Officers

In the meeting I noticed three smart, happy-faced little Chinese women and on enquiry learned that one had come on the advice of and by the help of her friends in Java, and the other two had been recruited by Major Dr. Wille. The other two were from Chinese families resident in Java and all three have got converted during their stay in the Eye Hospital. They and the others present were delighted to hear that I represent every tribe and tongue, drank in all that was said and doubtless with a good deal of wonderment of it all. Nine men and women on being invited to come to the Saviour, found their way to the Pentecost-urn and drank salvation through the precious blood of Him who died for every race.

A spirit of Awakening is prevalent in the Kottanarkkari Division, South India. In Cherupaya Corps there is a stir among the Hindus. The Government has sent the Army with a piece of land, and also promised to pay half the cost of the buildings. The Hindus are confident they are ready to become Salvationists. Thirty-five to forty children are being educated.

Several weeks ago we gave some facts concerning the Madras cyclone. We have since received the following particulars as to the aid which was afforded by means of the grant which The Generalissimo has made to the Government of the Baptista Division: seventy-six families, in four villages alone, were helped, and the Government supplied out. A further one hundred families were also cared for. Gudimudi, a village of thirty families and one widow, in addition to repairs to buildings. Tenali Division, twenty-five families, one widow, and Ellord Division, twenty-four families supported. Furniture and clothing were also supplied.

DRUNKARDS FOR 40 YEARS

Are Now Saved and Happy—Wish to do with Pipes and Whiskey—Touching Meetings with the Prisoners

Amongst those who have recently come to God in our meetings at Sydney have been two khaki soldiers and two sailors. While they were here their testimonies inspired us. Two brothers who gave their hearts to God were both drunkards for over forty years, and their testimony in the meetings inside and at the open-air shows that "There is power, power, wonder-working power in the blood." Both these brothers were under the influence of drink when they came to the Penitent Form. One put his pipe down and after he got saved, jumped up and placing the pipe upon the floor, jumped upon it. (Shouts of "Praise God!")

The other comrade, while at work this week, was approached by one of his old companions, who asked him to have a drink of whiskey. Our comrade, who works for the city, was in a hole during the time. The workmate insisted on the comrade taking the bottle, so he took it and smashed it down the hole where he was disgraced. He said, "Thank God I don't want that now!"

Recently the Captain was called to the Police Station, and on arrival there a soldier in khaki was helping him in his difficulty. Before leaving the cell the Captain knelt down and prayed with the soldier. He was baptized, and there and then gave his heart to God. He handed his pipe and tobacco to the Captain, who burnt it in the quarters.

At the meeting in the County Jail the Officers carried the portable organ and sang a hymn, so that the prisoners could all hear which they did very heartily indeed. The Captain made an appeal to them to give their hearts to God, and many were under conviction.

A woman who recently tried to poison herself by a note pinned to her dress asking Mr. Bosher (the Captain's wife) to take care of the child. We are pleased to say that the woman has recovered, and the little one has been handed back. The Officers taking care of it while the woman was in the hospital.

The Home League continues to progress in the good work for the soldiers, and at their music recitals a very enjoyable time was spent—the mothers bringing their children with them.

COMRADES ENROLLED

On Sunday, Aug. 25th, Candidate Waterston, who has been a faithful worker in our midst, returned to Calgary Hill for the Training Home. Her life and words of encouragement have always been a source of real blessing to us. In the last week she spoke to us for the last time, we felt that we were losing a real Soldier. There is not one of us that will forget to pray for her and her dear great interest her career as a Salvation Army Officer.

Captain Waterston also enrolled three comrades under the banner and the Flag. Recently we welcomed two new boys, from Bowmanville, Ont. Real interest in the work and up in the Corps, and the comrades are making special effort during the

LIFE-SAVING SCOUT BAND

Band Secretary Joyce, of Lethbridge, and his charge, Sidney (standing) was Deputy Bandmaster of the Corps Band, and is now an Officer, stationed at Coleman.

Camp Keewauw, Brighton, N.S. Major Barr and Adjutant Best were in charge of the week-end meetings. They arrived at the station sun-burnt and tanned.

Quite a large crowd had gathered at the station to meet the boys. The band struck up a good, lively march and proceeded to the Hall, where the Life-Saving Guards had a good supper prepared for them. A fine programme was rendered at night and the Hall was packed to the doors.

The Sunday Holiness Meeting was one that will long be remembered by those present. Thirty, all told, mostly Young People, knelt at the Mercy Seat.

Again in the afternoon a splendid programme was given in the People's Theatre. The night meeting was also well attended, and we had a blessed time.—J. Cranwell.

INSPIRING MEETINGS

Bless Many at Ottawa I.—Two Seekers

We are pressing onward to victory under the leadership of Adjutant and Mrs. Osbourne, entreated all Adjutant Osbourne, entreated all Mr. Oliver (Methodist) with us. In the afternoon he took the lesson, and urged all present to so pray and take hold of God—that they would be endowed with power from on high. His message was of inspiration to all present. At night Adjutant Osbourne, entreated all present to seek God and put Him first in all things, showing them that by so doing it would profit them not only in this life, but in the life to come. God's spirit was manifested in the meeting and a number present felt their need of coming to Christ, and before the close of the prayer meeting two precious souls sought Christ as their own personal Saviour.—M. Saunders.

Regina Corps—Here Don McPhail Service as Soldiers

Two of the Regina Commanding said farewell on Aug. 22nd, prior to leaving for the Training Home and Sister Roshier. Sergeant and very great help and blessing in the Corps. Under difficult circumstances so persevered in his determination to serve God that he became very greatly respected by his comrades. He will be sorely missed, but not only did he very ably carry out his duties as Corps Secretary, but he was a very useful member of the solo concert section of the band. However, we feel proud of him and gladly give him to assist in the winning of souls for God. At the first meeting a number of comrades spoke of the life our comrades had while in the Corps.

Sister Roshier, who has been converted for about a year, has also done considerable work towards the old choir, along with the singing of souls for God. At the first meeting a number of comrades spoke of the life our comrades had while in the Corps.

On Monday night Junior Sergeant Major Mundy and Company Guards had charge of the meetings. The testimonies were short, sharp, and full of glory; the young comrades are a credit to our Corps for attending the Open-Airs.—H.D.

MONOTON

We had Adjutant Hurd with us at Monoton on Sunday, he having just returned from a four week visit to his old home in Newfoundland. At the close of the Sunday night meeting a khaki lad knelt at the Penitent Form and found Salvation. Two backsliders also found their way home to the Cross. The Life-Saving Guards are spending a week at Camp Smile-A-Bit, Point Du Chene.—E. T.

ST. JOHN II

Sunday, August 26th, was a day of blessing at St. John. The Knox drill was conducted by Lieutenant Holmen, and quite a number turned out. The service was very near and blessed us. A real lively Holiness Meeting was conducted by Adjutant White. At night the Adjutant again took charge. The Officers, Captain Ferrell and Lieutenant

"BRICK DAY"

Brought in Good Sum for the New Citadel at Campbellton

(By Wire)

Good week-end meetings were conducted by Major Barr at Campbellton, N.B. Large crowds attended the services. The Major's addresses were full of power. Street scenes came forward. Finances good.

"Brick Day" on Tuesday, Sept. 3rd, for funds for the new Citadel was a grand success. The magnificent sum of two hundred and fifty dollars was raised.—C. H. Spence, Ensign.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S BAND

From Victoria Visits Vancouver to Assist in Week-end Meetings

We are having some very special meetings at Vancouver. Last Sunday morning Captain Nichol took the lesson. In the afternoon a fine service of music and song was given by the Victoria Corps Young People's Band. The Young People of that Corps, together with Captain Nichol and Lieutenant Ramble, very kindly came over to assist in the week-end meetings. We enjoyed their visit very much and the meetings all day were good.

Commandant Allen presided at the afternoon service, and at night conducted a great Salvation Army Lecture. Ramble, visited the Juniors in the afternoon. He spoke on the lesson and taught them new choruses, which we enjoyed very much. Things are progressing very nicely at Vancouver. Under the leadership of Captain Nichol, the band came back to God.—A. THE WAR CRY

WOMEN WORKERS NEEDED

To Labour in the Master's Vineyard for the Salvation of Souls and the Uplift of Humanity

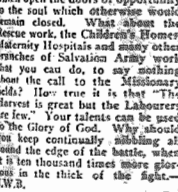

"Wanted—Women Workers for the Duration of the War." This call has been answered by thousands of women, and to-day we find them engaged in all kinds of work formations by men. In the Salvation Army we have always believed in giving women equal opportunities with men, and right well have demonstrated their capability and devotion in the Master's work.

To-day there is a greater need than ever for sanctified women to labour in the cause of God and The Army. Perhaps some have been holding back for some reason or other. It will be wisdom on your part to offer yourself now without reserve or question, place yourself in the hands of God, and in the pool of experienced leaders, who are in a position to know exactly where you will fit in this great work. Perhaps you will never be as famous as Mary and Martha, a Joan of Arc, Grace Darling, or Florence Nightingale, but it is your duty to accept the call with the talent God has given you now possess, and "Follow after Charity." Your reward for obedience and faithfulness is assured.

Get in the Fight!

Don't be sidetracked any longer. Put a stamp on that letter that you are ready for a long time to mail it to your Divisional Commandant. In a few months you will be taking your place among the Women Workers who have enlisted for the cause of Christ for the duration of the war, which will continue until the world is at peace. You will appear with ten thousand of his angels.

Don't run away with the idea that this work merely consists of doing a "War Cry," taking up a collection, singing a song, or "praising a sermon" and think that because you cannot do any of the above, that you have not got the qualifications. There are only a few places of the Field Officer's life, but thousands they are golden, which open the doors of opportunity to the soul which otherwise would be closed. What about the rescue work, the Children's Homes, Maternity Hospitals and many other fields of Salvation Army work that you do, to say nothing about the call to the Ministry itself? How true it is that "The Harvest is great but the Labourers are few." Your talents can be used to the Glory of God. Why should you keep continually shuffling all the edge of the battle, when it is ten thousand times as much in the thick of the fight.—J.W.B.

WASHING GLASSWARE

When washing glassware never let it in the water bottom first. Always it is edge-wise will prevent cracking. Do not have the water too hot, and do not wash with a pattern use soap or washers with a small brush. Afterwards wash with clean water and polish with clean dry cloth.

Things are progressing very nicely at Vancouver. Under the leadership of Captain Nichol, the band came back to God.—A. Sherif, C.C.

Woman's Work Ways and Warfare.

PAGEANT OF WOMEN'S WORK

The Salvation Army Takes Part in Monster Demonstration at the Canadian National Exhibition—Rain Came in Torrents, But Valiant Women "Carried On"

THE great demonstration of Women's Work at the Canadian National Exhibition, in which The Salvation Army took part, was unfortunately marred by a deluge of rain. In spite of the elements, however, the women pluckily determined to carry out the programme as far as possible. It was of necessity however, much curtailed, for it was a sheer impossibility to march through the sea of mud into which the roadway had been converted by the heavy downpour. In its report of the proceedings the Toronto "Globe" said:—

Enthusiasm Not Damped

"Rain cannot dampen nor deluge the heart's enthusiasm. The Canadian woman proved her superiority to circumstance yesterday afternoon before the Grand Stand at the Canadian National Exhibition, when, despite the downpour which marred the proposed demonstration of war work, the participants in it demonstrated something far finer than any fair-weather pagentry could depict—a magnificent readiness to fulfil her obligations in the face of every discouragement."

The downpour was torrential at the time for commencing the demonstration, but entirely oblivious to this band of nurses in their neat white uniforms marched blithely into the arena.

"One moment under that deluge," to again quote the report, "was enough to turn all their crisp white articles to demonstrate what is being done in the way of sending comfort to the boys overseas. A large group of Life-Saving Guards were very conspicuous and picturesque in this great pageant of women's work."

On the whole the demonstration showed in a striking manner the great part women are taking in the work of the Empire.

genuine heartfelt enthusiasm which greeted them, and which burst forth in fresh gusts of applause as they went on marching, and before leaving the arena, formed themselves into the lines of the Christian cross as a symbol of life and service."

The downpour abated shortly afterwards and the rest of the pageant was carried out under slightly more favourable conditions.

The military bands struck up a patriotic air and group by group the women marched on to the arena and took up their positions. There were Red Cross workers, members of various Women's organizations, farmettes of all sorts, including fax pullers, berry pickers and truck gardeners, munition workers, Royal Air Force girls and airplane workers, the latter drawing an airplane.

The Salvation Army delegation was headed by Mrs. Commissioner Richards and Mrs. Colonel McMillan, and was representative of many branches of work open to women Salvationists. A number of women Officers represented the Social Service League, whose particular duty is to visit the relatives of soldiers killed or wounded, to comfort and bless them and to render any service possible. Another group was representative of what Army women are doing in Hostels and Huts for our soldiers.

Soldiers' Comforts

The Home League was also represented, members carrying various articles to demonstrate what is being done in the way of sending comfort to the boys overseas.

On the whole the demonstration showed in a striking manner the great part women are taking in the work of the Empire.

SALVATION ARMY WAR WORK

(Reprinted from "The Christian") "She had simply drifted into a dangerous position," said a Salvation Army Officer, speaking of a soldier's wife. "I do not think she intended to do anything wrong, but she had stopped writing to her husband."

It is when a letter from home stops coming that the man at the front gets uneasy. He does not know what to do, and turns to The Salvation Army Officers in France. "I wish," he says, "you would look up my wife at —. I can't understand why she does not write to me." The Officers are very carefully, and never give any idea to the woman that she is being visited by request.

At times the Officers come upon the scene just in the nick of opportunity, and prevent the woman's moral breakdown. The knowledge that some one outside her immediate friends cares for her, and desires to render unobtrusive assistance, without any ulterior motive, gives her a moral tonic. It appeals to her better nature. She never knows who stimulated the visit. She is only conscious that the woman Officer visits her at a critical period of her married life, and, without too many questionings, inspired her to make home and children a first charge upon her time and separation allow, and

This is one of the many departments of War Work undertaken by The Salvation Army. The Huts and Hostels in France are crowded with British soldiers, and everything possible is done to promote their highest interests. Wounded men at home, hospital cases are visited by Miss (Staff-Captain) Booth and other women Officers. Salvationists have also given great ambulance cars to the British Red Cross Society, which are manned by Salvationists.

All things in Christ are ready now.

PRaise THE SAVIOUR

—Tunes—Mary, 18; Nativity, 11.

Oh, for a thousand tongues to sing
My great Redeemer's praise;
The ten thousand that He saved,
The triumphs of His grace!

My gracious Master and my God,
Assist me to proclaim,
To spread through all the earth
The honours of Thy name.

See, all your sins on Jesus laid;
The Lamb of God was slain,
His soul was once an offering made
For every soul of man.
